Meet Amy Chapin: Island Montessori's After School Specialist

Amy Chapin studied Fine Arts at Milwaukee Institute of Art and Design where she was a printmaking major with a drawing minor. She also studied various forms of design, including industrial and interior design.

Another passion she pursued was cooking. Amy graduated from The Florida Culinary Art Institute in Palm Beach where she started her career as a professional Chef working in various Ritz Carlton Hotels throughout Florida.

Currently, Amy is a Marco Island Resident with 2 children of her own. She has a fitness certificate and teaches a cardio-kickboxing class at the Marco Y.

She enthusiastically joins IMA as a related arts and after school specialist. The after school program will include fitness, healthy eating/cooking, and creative expression.
